Audiology Academy Sponsored by Academy of Doctors of Audiology (ADA)

Advancing the training of Audiology Assistants

Mill Creek, WA: Today, Audiology Academy, an online training site focused on the advancement and training of Audiology Assistants announced that they have teamed up with the Academy of Doctors of Audiology (ADA) to promote the Audiology Assistant Training Program, which was developed to give the industry a high quality, cost effective and synergistic tool for training those interested in the growing role of Audiology Assistant or Audiology Technician in the fields of Otolaryngology and Audiology.

"We are excited that an organization like ADA has taken steps to help promote the role of Audiology Assistants in Audiology. The ADA organization has been a standard bearer for this important role, creating a membership program and conference topics for assistants and now, standing behind Audiology Academy's online training program. We are pleased to partner with ADA to offer a discount to their members for the Audiology Academy online program. This will help promote the use of and training for new Audiology Assistants in the industry," said Joe Furness, President at The Kingham Collective

"The Academy of Doctors of Audiology is excited to partner with the Kingham Collective to offer this valuable benefit to members," said Executive Director, Stephanie Czuhajewski. "We recognize the important role that audiology assistants play, and we want to make sure that our members have access to training resources to help their employees and practices thrive."

The training site AudiologyAcademy.com has been tested for functionality and reviewed for content to ensure the training is within the scope of practice for Audiology Assistants. The training program will adapt as the requirements change in the industry or new technology or training becomes available.

About Audiology Academy: Audiology Academy is a training site based in Mill Creek, WA. Founded in 2016, Audiology Academy has developed multiple online courses that are sold direct to consumer through partnering practice development groups and through affiliate programs that have membership websites.
